Leaders plan census attack

Looking over the overlooked, counting the uncounted

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The local economy will be devastated if the preliminary census figures for this area are allowed to stand, according to R.C. Bush, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bush said the official census is used, by both government and industry, as a basis to determine all sorts of funding. He said he knows the preliminary figures are wrong, but he doesn't know what to do about it.

Because he hopes somebody does know, Bush is putting together a meeting Tuesday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Invited are representatives of local governments, businesses and real estate firms.

"We're going to develop a strategy to address this before it becomes final," Bush said.

The preliminary figures show Granite City with a population of 32,701, a drop of 4,114 from the 1980 figure of 36,815. Madison is shown with a population of 24,762, a drop of 2,053.

Granite City Mayor Van Dee Cruse and Madison Mayor John Bellcoff are adamant that the figures are off-base. They have said they will do everything possible to have them changed.

Van Dee Cruse has decreased slightly since 1980, from 36,815 to 36,799.

Pontoon Beach, according to the preliminary figures, grew from 3,336 in 1980 to 3,945 this year.

Madison County's population dipped from 247,664 a decade ago to 246,762 now. Illinois slipped from 11,427,426 in 1980 to 11,325,241 this year.

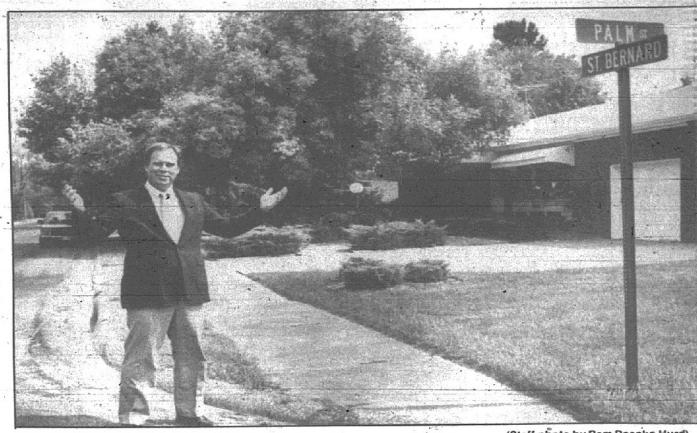

In Granite City, Economic Development Director Alan Orthals said the city is "feuding with the census" about two things—the failure to include annexed areas in the city's total and the number of vacant housing units it shows.

For example, Orthals said, a review of the census would indicate its workers couldn't find the Gorbe Subdivision at all.

"All it lists for the area is 'no information available,'" Orthals said.

The area, about 30 houses in the northeast part of Granite City, was annexed to the city several years ago, but remains in Nameoki Township as a result of a later referendum election.

The preliminary census figures show Granite City has a total of 14,812 housing units of which 912 are vacant.

'EUREKA! I HAVE FOUND IT' is what Granite City Economic Development Director Alan Orthals seems to be saying as he stands in the Gorbe Subdivision, which was apparently overlooked by census takers.

Orthals contests both figures. He said he is working with Assessor Darlene Laub and the City Engineering Department to prepare a counter figure on the total number of housing units.

As far as the number of vacant units, Orthals said, it's just not accurate.

"In one area of East Granite that includes a part of Kirkpatrick Homes, their figures show 200 vacancies," Orthals said. "With the Neighborhood Rehabilitation Program, we're getting to know East Granite pretty damn good and it's just not so."

"Even with Kirkpatrick, it's not so. At worst, Kirkpatrick isn't running more than five or 10 percent vacant."

Fired policeman fights back

By Dennis Grubaugh

PONTOON BEACH — A five-year member of the village police department, fired a month ago for his interests in a local bar, will have a hearing Monday night to determine if he can stay on the police force.

Officer Thomas Watts was fired by Mayor Glen Wilson for his involvement in the Bottoms Up Lounge, 3874B Illinois Route 111. Watts had previously been suspended with pay by Police Chief Chet Ballew, and later was fired by the mayor.

"I suspended him with pay. He asked for a hearing, so I gave him a hearing. It was set up and, just when it was supposed to start, the mayor terminated him," Ballew said.

Teamsters Local 525, the union representing police officers in Pontoon Beach, immediately filed a grievance.

Wilson said Watts' part-owner interests in the bar prompted his decision.

"You can't have any interest directly or indirectly in a tavern or nightclub," the mayor said. He declined to say more on the firing pending the hearing.

Chief Ballew said there are both a village ordinance and a state law banning sale of alcohol by law enforcement officers.

Watts, however, denied being an owner of the bar but said his girlfriend, Janet Spilliff, is. Any connection he has to the bar is through her, he said.

"I built the building for them, and it had a lease option; that's how she goes there. And his dealings are strictly 'real estate' related, he said. He has not received any of the bar's revenue.

He declined to say more pending the hearing. "The attorneys are handling it now," he said. Neither the Madison County Clerk's Office nor

6 arrested for crack, cannabis

Robert H. Clark, 39, of St. Louis was arrested Aug. 8 at Calhoun and Weaver streets and later was charged in a warrant with unlawful possession of a controlled substance.

Police said they stopped Clark on a traffic violation when they spotted a Tylenol bottle coated on the inside with a powdery residue. Clark had a soda with him.

Found at the bottom of the soda were five rocks of crack cocaine that, according to an analysis by the Illinois State Police lab, contained .2 gram of cocaine. Clark was freed on $2,002 bail.

Crack cocaine located

Clayton T. Tosseyas, 23, of Edwardsville was arrested Aug. 22 at Klein and Bissell streets and charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance after police allegedly found a piece of crack cocaine in his car. Police said he was spotted talking to a known drug dealer, who ran away. When they stopped Tosseyas, they said, they found the drug.

Man pleads guilty, fined

Richard E. Williams, 36, of Lee Wright Homes pleaded guilty in the Granite City court to unlawful possession of a controlled substance.

Williams had been arrested July 26 in Lee Park after police received a report of someone selling drugs. Two rocks of crack cocaine allegedly were found in his possession. He was again arrested Aug. 14 after a warrant was obtained.

Williams was fined $1,000 and placed on one year's probation.

Police find marijuana

Kenneth L. Gaskin, 28, of Berkeley, Mo., was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis Aug. 12 after police reported finding a bag of marijuana in his pants. Police also believed he was in possession of crack cocaine because he appeared to be acting suspiciously. Police said Gaskin gave his permission to be searched.

Arrested with cocaine

Michael A. Revelle, 31, of St. Louis was arrested Aug. 6 and charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance after he allegedly was seen talking to a known drug dealer in the 1300 block of Klein Street. Revelle was stopped in the 1100 block of South Fourth Street. Police said they found less than .1 gram of rock cocaine on Revelle, based on an analysis by the Illinois State Police lab.

Caught with marijuana

Stephen T. Johnson, 23, of East St. Louis was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis Aug. 22 after police allegedly found .35 grams of marijuana in his pants. Police said they were looking for two suspects reported brandishing guns in Lee Park when they stopped Johnson and another man at Klein Street and Lincoln Avenue.

Man misses court date

Craig Ingram, 19, of the 700 block of Third Street was arrested Aug. 24 on a Granite City warrant charging him with failure to appear in court to face an allegation of being drunk and disorderly.

Ingram, who was transferred to the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville, was again arrested Aug. 14 after a warrant was obtained.

Williams was fined $1,000 and placed on one year's probation.

unlawful use of a weapon.

Suspect kicks policeman

Gregory Rogers, 19, of the 1200 block of Market Street was booked for battery and resisting arrest Aug. 12 after he reportedly stopped in the 200 block of Weaverville Street for improperly displayed vehicle registration. Police said Rogers grabbed his license back from the officer and kicked him in the groin while attempting to flee.

Booked on three charges

Antonio M. Brown, 26, of Lee Wright Homes was arrested Aug. 3 on a Granite City warrant for failure to appear in court to face a charge of theft.

Brown was also charged with unauthorized use of a weapon after police said they found a pistol in his car with a live cartridge in it. He was also charged with illegal transport of alcohol because police reported there were several open beer cans in the car.

Burglar gets copper wire

Tri-City General Contracting Co., 310 Broadway, was burglarized Aug. 10. Somebody partially pulled up a garage door and took an unspecified quantity of copper wire.

Residence burglarized

The residence of James Gardner in the 500 block of Meredocia Street was burglarized during the night of Aug. 11-12. Taken were a television set and a portable stereo.

Ice cream driver robbed

Maurice Finch, of St. Louis, the driver of an ice cream truck, told police two men robbed him at mid-evening Aug. 18 while his truck was broken down in the 100 block of Weaver Street.

Finch said the men, about 25 years old, showed him a small pistol and demanded money. He gave them $34.

Hearing

The Illinois Secretary of State's Office has records on the business, indicating it may have not filed papers for incorporation or an assumed-name notice, state and county officials said.

Although businesses are required to file such paperwork, not all of them do, officials said.

Watts' hearing before the Illinois Board of Education will be Monday at 5 p.m. It will be held as an executive session of a previously recessed meeting.

Watts joined the force Nov. 3, 1984, Ballew said.

Asked if he'd had trouble with Watts, he said, "I'm a policeman," Ballew said. "I never had any problems with him."

The Bottoms Up Lounge opened for business early this year. The March 1 edition of the Press-Record contained a grand-opening ribbon-cutting picture in which Watts and three others, including Spiroff, were shown and listed as the bar's owners.

Oddly enough, both Mayor Wilson and Police Chief Ballew participated in the ribbon cutting and also were pictured.

Watts said he could not explain why the paper listed him as an owner.

Village Attorney Keith Jensen was out of town over the weekend and could not be reached for comment.

Teamsters officials also could not be reached for comment.

Watts' hearing will be Monday at 5 p.m. at the Illinois Board of Education.

He was reported in stable condition.

World War II buddies seek unit members

Maxine Duniphian covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Herald/Journal. She can be contacted at 931-2741.

The Sons of West Chain of Rocks Lodge, John H. Hardos of Merritt Island, Fla., John Cottieri of Catawissa, Mo., and Alfred Babecki of Oxen Hill, Md., all have something in common.

All are past 80 years old and all were in the same World War II Army unit at Camp Maxey near Paris, Texas.

The men are hoping to get together with members of their old unit from the motor pool of the 16th Engineer Combat Battalion for a reunion.

Scott, now approaching his 82nd birthday, entered the military service in 1943 and reached the rank of sergeant. Following his discharge at the end of the war, he became a steam fitter-welder and his job took him throughout the United States. He has not seen his Army comrades since their discharge.

Earlier this year, Scott was hospitalized with pneumonia. "With some time on my hands," he said, "I began to wonder about the possibility of getting in touch with some of my old army buddies."

Later, he put an article in the American Legion magazine as a feeler.

"Due to a backlog of such inquiries it takes about five months for an article to reach publication," Scott said. But since the article appeared last month he has been contacted by Hardos, Cottieri and Babecki.

Scott is hoping the reunion can be held some time in 1991 in St. Louis. Any former members of the unit or others interested may contact Scott by writing:

The Chouteau Township Senior Citizens visited The Missouri Botanical Gardens on Friday, Aug. 31. They enjoyed a guided tour through the 14-acre Japanese Gardens where the 18th annual Japanese Festival was in progress. They also toured the Climatron, the desert house and the scented garden.

The group met for lunch at the Grandview Restaurant in the Ridgeview Center of the garden center.

Following lunch, everyone went their own way. Some continued sightseeing and others shopped for souvenirs at the Garden Gate Shop.

Members of the Chouteau

Township Senior Citizens Club will travel to Uncle Andy's Apple Orchard on Sept. 20 to pick apples.

The clubbers bus will leave the Township Senior Center on Thorntree Drive at 9 a.m. and the group will travel the scenic Great River Road through Grafton.

The bus will return about noon to Grafton, where everyone may enjoy lunch at the restaurant of their choice. There will also be time to check out the antique and craft shops, which are plentiful in Grafton.

The trip is being sponsored by the Jolly Quilters. Seats are still available to Chouteau Township Senior Citizens Club members. For reservations call Maxine Duniphian at 931-2741. ***

Dave and Daisy Ferguson of Meadowland Drive attended the Ferguson family reunion earlier Labor Day weekend. The event was held at a park in Marion.

Thirty-eight family members were in attendance.

The park is located on a lake front and attracted fishing enthusiasts like Myra Braman, daughter Evonne of Sault Village, Ill. Also guests were a niece, Rose Ray, and daughters, Tammy and Kati, from Gary, Ind.

The Bramans treated their visitors to a trip to the Pevely Flea Market in Pevely, Mo., since they had never before attended a flea market.

Before the travails, relatives returned to the respective homes on Saturday, the Bramans hosted a family dinner that also included their children, Sheila and Scott Smith, and son, Timothy, and Matthew and Darlene Ortiz and sons, Michael, Christopher and Bryan. ***

Dorothy Yeoman, president of Illinois Church Women United will be a special guest at the 10th anniversary of the Dwight Prison for Women.

Yeoman is of the Methodist faith and has been on the Church Women United's state board for a number of years. During her term as state president, Yeoman is attempting to visit each local Church Women United unit.

The Rev. Jim Lybarger from Troy will be guest speaker. He is the minister of the Madison County Correctional Center for Christ Ministry and travels to correctional centers weekly.

Fall Forum scheduled

The annual "Fall Forum" of Quad-City Church Women United will be hosted by the Bethel AME Church, located at 1035 Market St., Venice, on Thursday, Sept. 13.

Registration will start at 10 a.m. with the program beginning at 10:30. A finger food luncheon will be served.

Warriors rally in 2nd half to beat Quincy

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — For one half the Warrior football team appears ready to take a step backwards.

Quincy emerged from a mistake-filled first half leading 12-7 at Memorial Stadium on Friday, but the Warriors came out firing on all cylinders in the second half for a 29-21 victory. The Warriors (2-0) have won back-to-back games for the first time since 1986, while the Blue Devils (0-2) have not won a game in nearly three years.

Senior quarterback Bob Thomas and junior halfback Mike Vaughn each ran for two touchdowns as the Warriors continued their resurgence under Tom Wyrotesek. Granite City and Quincy last met in the 1986 play-offs when the Warriors won 28-13. Warriors didn't score that many points in a single game again until last week's 21-7 win over Cahokia. On Friday, they improved on that—ever more.

But it wasn't as easy as the Warriors perhaps thought it would be. The Blue Devils hung tough for 24 minutes as Granite City obliged with four turnovers in the first half.

"We just weren't there mentally," said Wyrotesek. "I never thought we weren't charged up and ready. But we made two bad plays to give them their points. We just made some adjustments at halftime and played a much better second half."

Vaughn (61 yards on 14 carries) made it 2-0 on a four-yard run with 5:45 left in the first quarter after Dan Partney recovered Jose Buckner's fumble at the Quincy 41. Thomas (3 for 4, 58 yards) hit Damon Yates with a 37-yard pass to set up the score.

Buckner fumbled the first four times he touched the ball, but lost it only once. Once he began holding on, he became a terror. He had several tackles on a 45-yard touchdown run with 1:56 to go in the first quarter after Yates had fumbled a punt. But Ryan Sanders was stopped on a two-point conversion attempt and the Warriors still led 7-6.

Philip Neally intercepted Thomas on the next drive. Then Vaughn fumbled and DeVaughn Hawkins picked it up and ran 60 yards for a touchdown which was called back due to an illegal block. Billy Van Buskirk cut that short with an interception. But the Warriors couldn't move and Quincy went 42 yards in 10 plays, with Buckner scoring from a yard out with 44 seconds left in the half.

Blue Devil lead. Buckner finished with 90 yards on 14 carries.

"We didn't underestimate Quincy," said Wyrotesek. "They're not a bad football team. We just needed to make some adjustments and we had some guys arguing on the field. Our line needed better communication and they did much better in the second half."

The Warriors quickly took the game away in the third quarter. They went 44 yards in eight plays on the first drive. Thomas (four carries, 31 yards) ran five yards on a bootleg, then added the two-point conversion himself.

Quincy quarterback Allen Metzeyer was sacked on the next series, and Steve Carr, Gary and Mark Colter and the Warriors quickly got the ball back, with Thomas running 19 yards around right end on the first play of the fourth quarter for a 22-14 lead.

Sophomore quarterback John Hammock came off the bench in the fourth quarter and threw very well for the Blue Devils. He completed 8 of 12 passes for 84 yards. Quincy actually outscored the Warriors 22-20. But Granite City hung on and will open Southwestern Conference play at Belleville West (0-2), on Friday.

Potent Columbia spoils Trojans' home opener

MADISON — The final score Friday was Columbia 63, Madison 6, but Eagle head coach Jerry Germain said it took a spark in the final minutes of the second quarter to get his team going.

The ignition came in the form of Columbia linebacker Deron Patton scooping up a Tom Wolf fumble and racing 20 yards for a touchdown to put Columbia 12-0 ahead 22-6.

"(Tom) Wolf hit the running back and caused the fumble, then Deron picked it up and ran it in," Germain said. "That play kind of got us motivated. The first half was kind of frustrating. We scored on our first two offensive series. The kids probably thought they were going to have an easy one. Then we made some mistakes."

The Eagles, who beat Rosary 59-7 last week, followed Patton's score with an 80-yard touchdown from Hines to make it 30-6. That broke open what had been a competitive first half.

Trojan coach Don Smith said his team (0-2) played well at the outset.

"We started off all right," he said. "In the beginning, we kind of hung with them. Then we made some mistakes and got down."

Columbia kicked to Madison to open the game, then quickly forced the Trojans to punt. The snap was high to punter/quarterback Cernyn Thomas and though

Spikers fall to 0-2 with 2-game loss to Panthers

GRANITE CITY — If enthusiastic volleyball matches, the Warriors would be tough to beat. Unfortunately, that isn't the case. Granite City fell to 0-2 Friday with a 15-8, 15-7 loss to Alton Memorial Gymnastics.

"I felt like we won," said Warrior coach Natalie Buster. "There was much more confidence and more leadership out there tonight than we've ever had."

The first game was a nail-biter. Granite City came back from a 7-4 deficit to take an 8-7 lead on four straight service points by Jennifer Worthand, who was all over the court.

Jennifer was on tonight," said Buster. "She and Melissa Tamm had great defense. Carrie and Jennifer Harris did another fine job serving."

O'Fallon reeled off the last eight points to win the first game. Granite City closed out the second game with a 15-10 win.

"Jennifer has an advantage because she's a lefthanded server and most teams don't see that," said O'Fallon coach Steve Dirlbeck.

O'Fallon threw several different tactics at the Warriors and they paid off. Granite City was unable for being in the net four times and lost a point for an illegal alignment.

"The minor mistakes are beating us," said Buster. "We have a lot of good lines that are as they become more comfortable with one another, they will improve."

The Panthers jumped to a 6-1 lead in the second game. Anna Harris, Brown and Anna Bohm each helped the Warriors pull into a 7-7 tie. But O'Fallon scored the last eight points for the second straight game to end the match. Cullen served six points in a row to win.

O'Fallon reeled off the last eight points to win the first game. Granite City closed out the second game with a 15-10 win.

"Jennifer has an advantage because she's a lefthanded server and most teams don't see that," said O'Fallon coach Steve Dirlbeck.

"Jennifer was on tonight," said Buster. "She and Melissa Tamm had great defense. Carrie and Jennifer Harris did another fine job serving."

he recovered it, the Eagles took over on downs on the Madison 25. On the next play, Scott German blasted through the defense for a 25-yard touchdown. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

After another unsuccessful series for the Trojans, German ran 66 yards on fourth and 1 for a touchdown to make it 14-0. The teams traded possessions in the second quarter until Lowry fumbled a punt at the Columbia 15, with Madison recovering. Several plays later, Tony Treadaway ran it from the 1 at 4:56 of the quarter.

The second half was all Columbia as the Eagles outscored the Trojans 33-0. Two scores came on passes.

"We didn't throw because we were trying to get points on the board," coach Germann said. "I wanted to get the quarterback (Jeff Prosi) some complements."

"He's throwing passes in the third quarter and it's 49-6," Smith said. "What's he trying to prove?"

Smith said his team needs to move on after its record for its next game, which is Sept. 17 at home against Breezee Central.

Soccer

talizing yet. We had nine corner kicks tonight (the Kahoks had three) - and got nothing from them. We just have to do better."

The Kahoks had a good chance to go ahead three minutes after Verner's goal when Chandler's shot was stopped by Henson. Mickey Doctor got the rebound at a sharp angle and took a shot from the crossbar and out of play.

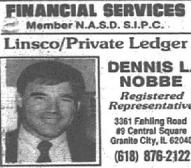

The Warriors took the play back little after that, although Buske's goal didn't please Rowden. "We have a veteran keeper (Bolandis) and he should have been at the near post," said Rowden. "But he was in the middle of the goal looking for something at the far post and got beat."

"Our attack just wasn't there in the second half. We played five games in just over a week with injuries and the hot weather. I don't want to blame it on that, but they substitute a lot more than we do. I like to stay with my lineup until something breaks."

Baker said his team hasn't hit its stride yet, either. The Warriors are still banged up with injuries, although senior Larry Williams had his first game after a suspension. Senior Jim McKeegan is expected back Tuesday for the first-place showdown at Belleville East. - 4 p.m.

'News Channel 5'Station embarrasses itself in announcing new format

KSDK-TV (Channel 5) opened what news anchor Karen Foss called "a new chapter in KSDK history" last week by flinging its news department into the promotional mire when it inaugurated its version of 24-hour news coverage.

After a year-and-a-half of watching its main competition, KMOX-TV (Channel 4), trumpet its own 24-hour operation, Channel 5 inaugurated its own round-the-clock coverage Labor Day with new graphics, a new name—News Channel 5—and what surely were some of the most embarrassing moments the station's personnel can remember.

Foss and co-anchor Dick Ford took most of the last minute (46 seconds) of the 10 p.m. newscast Labor Day to laud the alleged virtues of the new name and schedule.

"It isn't really new for us," said Foss with a straight face. "We've always brought you the most news around the clock in St. Louis."

Responded Ford: "Besides being the news leader, we'll be there to be counted on like clockwork."

Foss: "Our world is changing, you're changing, too. And we know you want more news, more often. And, as always, we'll be able to bring it to you the best at News Channel 5, St. Louis' 24-hour news channel."

All this took place within the confines of the newscast—at the very time viewers have the right to expect something real on news events. And this is a violation of trust, and when it is self-serving, it is even more deplorable.

Roughly the same thing was done by KMOX and Dennis Lane during the first segment of the 6 p.m. news.

"We were explaining to our viewers... You don't do it without me making some mention of it in the newscast. I don't think it's inappropriate," said Channel 5 news director Ron Turner when asked about the propriety of news people saying all that in a newscast.

It's a bit naive to be disappointed at what journalists do on television these days in the interests of promotion, but I never expected to see the principals of a station like Ford, Foss and Lane shamelessly doing promos during a newscast. It damages their credibility. It is embarrassing.

The way, for readers who have been out of town, 24-hour news was invented in the St. Louis market by Channel 4 in February 1989, and consists of a 30-second news update at the top of each hour and a weather update at the bottom of the hour. The shorts provide some information and provide the station great promotional opportunity.

The 24-hour concept is now admired by news directors and consultants around the country, and several stations have expressed interest in adopting it. WLWT-TV in Cincinnati, not incidentally, owned by Columbia, and parent company of Channel 5, recently began 24-hour news coverage.

Turner, to his credit, did not shy away from the charge that he was copying an idea. "We thought the time was right to do this," he said. "WLWT weren't going to be prevented because other stations had taken it."

Turner hopes Channel 5's mini-newscasts will include video and have more emphasis on local stories than those on Channel 5 has had since the on-air report to the personnel needed the mini-news casts require.

Meanwhile, Channel 4 news director Al Holzer said he was "flattered" that Channel 5 has adopted his concept.

It's been a real strong product-development thing for us," Holzer said. "They obviously feel the same way."

That brings us back to the real problem: "Product development" seems to be replacing journalism. Foo bar.

Phelan to Channel 4

Channel 4 has hired reporter Mary Phelan from KMOX-AM (1120). Phelan was one of the two principals in a program canceled last week by KMOX to make way for an expanded version of the Kevin Horgan-Charles Breanen morning program. But Phelan's move to television was a done deal before she got word on the cancellation, she said.

Phelan said she will be working on some special assignments for Channel 4, but would not elaborate. Holzer said he is pleased to have acquired Phelan's services, citing her "wonderful on-air personality who will be a very positive addition to Channel 4."

Ian MacBryde is an independent video producer and former television executive.

Fiesta set for Saturday

The Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will celebrate Mexico's traditional Independence Day with a gallo fiesta at the Mexican Honorary Commission Hall, 1800 Spruce St., on Saturday, Sept. 15.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. with music for dancing, provided by Miguel Luna, star of the night.

Mexico will be celebrating the 180th anniversary of its Declaration of Independence from Spain on Sept. 16. Traditionally, there are parades and feasts, pomp and ceremony throughout the country.

Many honors are given for the heroes of the independence movement, Miguel Hidalgo y Costilla and Jose Maria Morelos y Pavon, who began the fight for freedom and were martyrs in its cause.

On the eve of Independence Day at 11 p.m., the president of Mexico appears on the central balcony of the National Palace to shout out "Grito" or "Long live liberty, long live independence, long live Mexico."

This celebration in Mexico is comparable to the Fourth of July in the United States.

Mexican Honorary Commission's Folkloric Dancers, directed by Jeanine Robles, will be wearing authentic costumes while performing a variety of Mexican dances highlighted by the traditional "Jaripe Tapatio" (Mexican Hat Dance).

Dancers in the artistic group are: Amy Allen, Nikki Bloodworth, Carlos Briagas, Francisca

Briagas, Gabriela Briagas, Gloria Briagas, Jose Briagas, David Cook, Marlene Cook, Catie DeCourcey, Karen DeCourcey, Sandra DeCourcey, Cody Gray, Ron Gray, Terri Hall, Shelly Holz, Amanda Holz, Cindy Holz, Jenny Lindsay, Dawn Martin, Nikki Martinez, Anna Meyers, Connie Meyers, Janet Meyers, June Meyers, Debbie Moore, Della Moore, Kathi Zeb Moore, Fernando Pardo, Angie Pierce, Stacy Pierce, Jeanine Thomas, Anne Valencia, Karen Valencia, Rachelle Valencia, Raymond Valencia, Teri Valencia and Stephanie Ybarra.

Tacos, tamales and tostadas will be served. Tickets costing $4 for adults and $2 for children over 5 years old may be purchased at the door.

Abilities Expo set for Oct. 5-7

Abilities Expo, the largest show in the nation devoted exclusively to products and services for the disabled, seniors and their families, will return to Cervantes Convention Center, Oct. 5-7.

The show addresses the needs of those whose activities are restricted due to aging, paralysis, arthritis, stroke, multiple sclerosis, spinal cord injury, cerebral palsy, amputation, muscular dystrophy or other illness or injury.

Abilities Expo will have the newest, most technologically advanced equipment that could help make the life of a disabled person easier, more productive and more enjoyable, said Dick Wooten.

Wooten, producer of Abilities Expo and himself a wheelchair user, knows first-hand that finding just the right piece of equipment can literally change a person's life, enabling greater independence at work and at play.

More than 200 companies will display mobility and transportation equipment including vans, wheelchairs, three-wheel scooters, power chairs, medical equipment, computers designed and programmed for use by the disabled, special apparel, personal-care products, and myriad of small hand-held devices to assist with everyday activities.

It is estimated that one in eight Americans has a physical condition that limits activity.

Whatever one's age group or disability, the show planners seek to provide information on services and products that could bolster one's well-being.

State-of-the-art products include specialized computers, high-tech communications devices and vans that "kneel" so that a wheelchair user can roll directly into the vehicle.

There also will be a job fair with numerous job opportunities plus education, support and counseling from many different organizations and publications.

Daily workshops will include:

• Special demonstrations conducted by a famous St. Louis Dr. Jerryold Petrofsky, on his computer-aided walking system.

• Electrical stimulation and its uses in rehabilitation.

• Talks by Cheryl Gartley, noted authority on incontinence, discussing attitudes, treatment and management.

• "Take control" computer seminars by Madaline Pugliese Associates will offer hands-on training, workshops and continuing education courses in adapting computers for personal professional, educational and recreational use by the disabled.

Hours at Abilities Expo are Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 7, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Admission is free and open to the public. Cervantes Convention Center is located in downtown St. Louis at 801 Convention Plaza. For further information, (314) 342-5000 can be called.

Medicare patients can appeal early release from hospital

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q I recently was hospitalized for two weeks in a nursing home when I still was very sick. The hospital officials said Medicare would not pay for any more days in the hospital. Is this true?

A Medicare does not cover unnecessary long stays in the hospital. On the other hand, Medicare patients have a right to all the hospital care that's necessary for treatment of illness or injury. You may hear many stories about Medicare patients being discharged from the hospital before they feel they are ready to go home. People on Medicare should know about the rights in this situation.

Medicare requires hospitals to discharge patients in need of medical care but not in need of all the specialized services of a hospital. That is, services health care can be provided by home programs, out-patient clinics, skilled nursing facilities, nursing homes or by home health agencies at a fraction of the cost of a hospital.

But you still might feel you have been asked to leave the hospital too soon. If so, ask for a written notice and request an appeal. The hospital or your physician or your phone do not oblige you to leave the hospital or begin paying your own bill.

Appeals are decided by peer review organizations (PROs) that are directed paid by the government to review Medicare coverage. In most cases, the patient can stay in the hospital for a couple of days at noon. If so, ask for a written notice and request an appeal of the decision. Message in person or by phone do not oblige you to leave the hospital or begin paying your own bill.

At admission, all hospitals must give you a copy of their written explanations of their rights. Call the PRO if you have any questions about those rights. In Missouri call 800-347-1016; in Illinois call 800-347-0989.

Ask your doctor about the need for continued hospitalization. Ask the hospital's discharge planner to help arrange for services needed after you leave the hospital. Ask for written notices and promptly request an appeal if you disagree with a decision. Q. When I applied for Social Security benefits they asked me for my 1989 tax return. Why did they need that?

A It will help Social Security figure out exactly how much your monthly benefits should be. Social Security has been tracking earnings in records filed by Social Security since 1937. But Social Security only began to have their 1989 earnings posted to your earnings record when you applied for benefits. Since benefits are based on lifetime Social Security covered earnings, your 1989 earnings could increase your benefit.

Social Security wants to make sure you get all of the benefits you've got coming, so part of the application process is getting prior earnings records and adding them to the computation. Proof of earnings for an employee is a W-2 form. Proof for a self-employed person usually is Schedule SE from your federal income tax return.

"I don't think so," Harper said.

• Trial

later decided to give the defense an extra day Monday to try and find the witnesses. The trial will reconvene Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

Sandra Harper, of Granite City, who had testified Tuesday that she had bought a house in the 2700 block of Washington Avenue in her name for Janice Brimberry, with Janice Brimberry supplying the $7,000 down payment and making the monthly mortgage payments of Harper, who was called by the prosecution but characterized by it as a "hostile witness," had seemed Tuesday to go along with Assistant U.S. Attorney North's suggestion that Brimberry had said that arrangement was to hide assets from the IRS. But Friday, she said she had been "worried about what I said" in testimony and wanted to clarify it.

Schooley asked Harper if she could recall Brimberry ever saying she wanted the house in Harper's name so the "IRS couldn't take it. Harper said no.

"She told me she couldn't get it in her name because she couldn't get a loan," Harper said.

Wehrheim also admitted that Brimberry had told agents in March 1988 that she had purchased her house in a friend's name — not to hide its ownership, but because the Stix scandal had made it impossible for her to get a loan.

During questioning by Smith, Wehrheim emphasized that he had been prohibited by IRS regulations from sharing the information with the civil division.

Harper said she had not. IRS agents secretly videotaped Brimberry trying to sell two diamonds for $37,000 to an undercover IRS agent on March 4, 1988, at the Collinsville Hilton. The IRS agent, who had previously been viewed by the jury, later that night, agents searched the Brimberry house in the 2700 block of Washington Avenue and seized more jewels. The total value of the seized jewels was appraised at more than $60,000.

In response to a question from Smith, Harper said she hadn't known Brimberry had diamonds and other jewels except for some diamonds she usually wore. Smith asked Harper if she would have signed for the house loan had she known about it.

Kamaduski testified that Stein said.

But in redirect questioning, Schooley established that Harper could, if she wanted to, kick the Brimberry out of the house.

On Thursday and again on Friday, Stein attempted to show that the IRS had known about the jewels since 1981. Ron Stanley, a lawyer from Columbia, testified that Thomas Brimberry had told the IRS he had owned a number of pieces of jewelry — including a heart-shaped diamond that was part of the hotel transaction.

Smith countered by using several current and former IRS agents to establish that the criminal division of the IRS is prohibited from disclosing such information to the civil division, which Brimberry is accused of attempting to do.

Schooley got former IRS Special Agent Edward G. Maag, who headed the investigation, to agree that an attorney for Thomas Brimberry, Edward G. Maag, had read a list of assets, including jewels, into the record of a meeting with federal agents in 1981.

Wehrheim also admitted that

Brimberry had told agents in March 1988 that she had purchased her house in a friend's name — not to hide its ownership, but because the Stix scandal had made it impossible for her to get a loan.

During questioning by

Smith, Wehrheim emphasized that he had been prohibited by IRS regulations from sharing the information with the civil division.

Tonya Kamaduski of Granite City worked for Nathan Stein in the late 1980s and handled the tax records of Thomas Brimberry's business, Chrisrie's, a wallpaper shop in St. Charles.

Kamaduski was granted immunity from federal prosecution in either Illinois or Missouri, in exchange for her testimony. She had told Stein she would not testify if he would drop his charge against self-incrimination, which led the government after a lengthy recess, to grant her immunity. Nathan Stein is accused, in federal court in Missouri of trying to bribe an IRS agent in an unrelated case.

Kamaduski testified that Stein had often ordered her to put false information on IRS forms and throw away records that could be "incriminating to Stein & Associates."

Under cross examination by Smith, Schooley testified that she was formerly related to Brimberry by marriage and had known her since 1968. Her ex-husband is Janice Brimberry's cousin.

Kamaduski characterized Stein as "very persuasive" and Brimberry as "extremely gregarious and trusting" and lacking in business acumen.

Stein, she said, "spoke to clients in such a way as to convince them that what he was doing was absolutely correct."

Smith attempted to discredit Kamaduski as a witness by getting her to admit to a series of criminal actions at the behest of Stein, including over-depreciating assets on IRS forms, failure to list commissions on IRS 1040 forms, and falsifying signatures on all of which she said she did "at Stein's direction," and "under threat of losing my position."

"So you elected to keep your job and do illegal things?" Stein asked.

At one point, Judge Stehl admonished Smith for approaching Kamaduski in the witness stand too aggressively.

Kamaduski said the basis of her characterization of Brimberry as gullible was her tolerance of physical abuse — "black eyes and broken noses" — she allegedly suffered at the hands of Thomas Brimberry over the years of their marriage.

The couple divorced while he was in prison, but have reconciled since his release last December and are living together.

Thomas Brimberry picked up Janice Brimberry at the end of the day in court Thursday. During a recess, Brimberry said Thomas was back living with her and their three children on Washington Avenue. She would not say whether they had remarried.

She said Thomas was working as a salesman for a St. Louis company, but she declined to name it or say what sort of business it was in. She did say it was not a brokerage house. Janice Brimberry will testify next week.
